

in to do their festive bit

South China Morning Post

The efforts of a colourful cast of characters helped to make this year's Operation Santa Claus such a success.

Children sing at a lunch hosted by Melco International (top, far left); Barclays CEO Robert Morrice and RTHK's head of English programme services, Bryan Curtis (bottom far left); (from below, clockwise) a Discovery Mind Kindergarten youngster; the good folk at Colani Silvan; staff from Families of Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA) Charitable Trust; staff of Bank of America Merrill Lynch chip in; Michael Huddart of Manulife Hong Kong; participants in the Wing Ding Squash Tournament; enthusiastic staff at Baptist Oi Kwan Social Services; (right) Santa ambassadors at the grand launch.

Since its launch in November, Operation Santa Claus has raised more than HK$9 million for its 16 beneficiaries.
